It is mandatory for music teachers to learn to sing in at least one of the national musical instruments listed in this appendix, and in at least three of them, starting from the 2023-2024 academic year. Students have been taught the skills of playing the tarona on at least one of the national musical instruments listed in this appendix, and relevant notes will be included in their educational document (certificate).

10,130 schools, 373 children's music schools, 326 cultural centers, seven types of national musical instruments are provided in 3 runs across Uzbekistan. An investment of 205 billion soums has been allocated for this purpose. That's why we, as an aduvap, in the direction of the goals of music education, which is the source of the craft, in the way shown by the teachers, the craft that we have the wealth to write music, the craft that is our wealth, obeyed by the special seven notes and 7 instruments to the students in the schools in a conditional way. we teach It is necessary to enrich the education with the actions of the teachers, the teacher and the knowledge. At home, the school teacher is a tool for parents and students to develop their interest, responsibility, and self-responsibility, to become a perfect human being, to correct their mistakes in time, and to support and support the achievements of educated children and their knowledge. We can achieve clear results and quality knowledge by exhausting our weapons.

"Teacher is greater than your father " is the educational proverb that our society adores to every teacher who teaches knowledge, who works hard to make the education of his students a good one. great truth, and pride, and joy. The teacher who has raised the education to the blues is handsome no matter how many good words he recites.

As an answer to this saying, "Your teacher went to your teacher, you have your teacher", the teacher always found his own patience. Teacher is a person who gambles on innovation, the path of work is narrowed down to the needs of the times, after exhausting the knowledge of striving forward, and relying on the opportunities of education and training, may the strength be gained, teacher. If the teacher is attentive and knowledgeable, he will give the chosen professions to the society. This teacher will help the children of the people to get quality education in order, cleanliness and manners. The work of your teacher is a lot in the experience of life. Sabirdi wears a crown on his head, the name Ustoz is written in golden letters - this is a hymn to the Great Teacher. The reason is that the teacher, the possessor of knowledge, has deep patience, unyielding and endless kindness, and is in the heart of each and every student. The teacher always obeyed his knowledge and patience.

Patience is being close to yourself, knowing how to give, knowing how to keep a good character in the autograph of life experience, unanimity is a great feature in society. In pedagogy, it is a profession with the greatest special confidence in the way of valuable development with all three difficulties. Patience-health, wit, knowledge, edification. If you have entered this profession, you should know that loving children is your greatest duty. There are many of our teachers who have taught us when necessary, and our teachers who are role models are the majority of our people. If I am surrounded by students, then I am a student if the teacher evaluates my knowledge clearly. Let's not hope for the knowledge given by the teacher. Every person needs the help of a teacher whenever he learns. The music voice helps the child to raise his/her voice and to train the child's brain to develop his/her culture. Our honorable president Shavkat Miromonovich Mirziyoyev has repeatedly said that he loves to read and understands the meaning of it and that the knowledge he gets is behind that reading. That's why, starting from the 2nd year, the school for students was experiencing mistakes, I started working at music school No. 7 in Takiyatash district in order to learn how to get along with children while studying. In the lesson, the knowledge given by the teacher is determined by time, I give each student a question and an answer until the end. I would like to remind you to keep in mind that each student's passion for learning comes quickly, and in such cases, time is limited for us and the students. I like to teach my students in a simple way so that they can remember it clearly. I will allow the waterfall to rest for a minute so that the students remember it. I advise you to listen to the great music and listen to each of the musical instruments willingly. I believe that then the child's devotion to music will increase and his self-belief will increase, and he will repeat at home that I can do it. Russian people have a saying "Repeated reading is the mother of science".

What I have learned from children is that the more you treat them, the more they respect you and try to complete their homework. Shokh calls the children to order, and if they want to bow down on their own, he can click better than you can imagine. Your attention to your students is endlessly heartbreaking. It is better to correct the mistake and defect on the spot and move to the better side. As the old saying goes, "If you speak harshly, a gypsy will come out of your mouth, if you speak well, a snake will come out of your mouth." It is said that the bad is bad, the good is too short, the good is good, and the bad is too short. Just as the teacher is a student of what he knows, he is also a partner in the joy of his student, just as one hand is a piece of wood, and a learned man is a thousand pieces of wood. In building a new Uzbekistan, parents, teachers, and teachers at home, listen carefully to the child's abilities, and then carefully gather the knowledge of the surrounding area, provide them with tools and weapons, and show them how to complete the assignments on time. The boy likes to draw attention to himself, a child will always remember the first music he learned, just like his first teacher. After a while, he laughs when he remembers those who couldn't play the first music he learned. We, the people of Karakalpakstan, are a multi-ethnic population, but the special 7-note music is an ancient heritage for the people of the world. Music reaches the heart of mankind. That's why music is common to all people. The music industry is a highly sought-after field, and it is necessary to pay attention to the fact that the teacher corrects the mistakes by introducing many interesting innovations. As they say, it's not because you've lived long, but you've seen a lot. When teaching the student, the teacher tries to disguise the error in simple language, replace it with repetition, and teach the student that it is pleasant to hear a clear click of the voice. We must oblige the teacher to listen quietly when he repeats himself. Keep in mind that the craft that is cultivated and called for, does not return knowledge. When we mean order, we mean cleanliness, the windows that surround us, the mother, the tools taken from our close people, whatever you get hold of, the most beautiful shirimeytin is made from wood saturated with the joy of our close people. It is the task of the teacher to introduce the reason and teach how to hold it with attention and respect. Children's respect for the instrument will increase if parents sit at home and tell them that they have worked hard to keep this instrument in their hands. I think that it is the daily duty of parents and teachers to remember how to follow the rules of the school together with my son. If the student learns with passion, corrects and repeats the mistakes of the teacher, he will increase his self-belief, teacher, you can do it. Remains. While teaching the knowledge I received from my teachers to the students at the music school, I took into account the fact that the children do not have musical instruments at home, so I drew a signature on a white poster paper so that it would be convenient for the children, and distributed it to each child. I have heard words of praise about the good school with good exam grades at the end of this thesis. It is also very helpful for him to write down his signatures at home and write down the homework. I believe and dream that in the future every child will have their own piano. My students learn 3-4 songs confidently and pass their exams. The joy on the faces of my students hides the time of my work, I believe in it. I advise you to find and listen to the songs of your former teachers and listen to the clicks of each instrument in front of you, because the child's interest will increase and his ability will increase. It is good if the student is interested in the history of the subject he has studied, this is a great step in the future. All the abilities of children come out sooner or later. This is the will of the great teachers, when the time comes, thoughts are expressed as words, and the intelligence of the signature of the word is its greatest helper and tool. As it is said that there are too many fish in the water, you cannot catch anything, so the student learns like anyone else. Rich in content, the surface of the water is cracked, the road is safe for everyone, good luck to everyone.

Our teacher Allanov Ayap asked us to come up with an idea about how we can play music for blind children. I would suggest that our government masters put a different sign on the keyboard. I think that the reason is that if you teach gradually with the help of repetition of the understanding, the understanding will be enriched and the voices will be noticed because of the approximate endings. The crowd will say some options:

1. Do
2. Re
3. Mi
4. Fa
5. Sol
6. Lya *
7. Si =

I pray that these students will learn without sparing themselves, and may I be lucky to be a partner in their joy. May the results achieved in the field of vocational demand continue, I hope that all students will join the line. I hope that these honorable people can be helped by the creative forces by introducing simplified methods. Our honorable president Shavkat Miromonovich Mirziyoyev wrote us 7 notes and 7 tunes for a reason, and the number 7 is not for nothing. As the Greek scientist Pythagoras Samocki said, "The number rules the world", I would like to take into account that children of our people should pay attention to the specifics of the number 7 and learn that it is a common inheritance.

The color of the rainbow in the sky 7

The number of notes in music is 7

7 days a week on a conditional basis

The crack stars of the globe 7 here 7 has a large community of at least 3 reasons why it is necessary to click is a competition and obligation for music teachers. If we can teach the children of our people with our useful advice, learning the wonderful qualities of our well-educated teachers means that we have the opportunity to raise the level of education in the music instrument. I would like to request that in the future, our country will gradually provide musical instruments to the children of our people by providing subsidies and soft loans for our parents, musical instrument stores, music bookstores.

If there are fairy-tale books related to the science of music, those who are interested in the book, cartoons and cartoons related to the science of music will be interesting to the children. Install the tools, the services will increase in the future, it's exhausting. During the period of our independence, during the period of renewal, the possibilities are endless, and the demand for the craft increases. May the good intentions of the parents, formed in the way of increasing the repeated interest of the teachers without boring their children, be greatly appreciated. It is necessary for the student to take a good long way on the vocational path, overcome difficulties and achieve success, and never stop learning. Till this day, no matter how many teachers I have received education and training, I wish all my teachers good health, good luck, great success in their work, peace and cooperation for their families, and I am endlessly grateful to them. My dear teachers who are the source of knowledge who have gone to their honorable rest may the teachers who looked into our hearts like a bed of water and showed us the way, may they not get tired, may they have a long life behind them. May their families be safe, and may the honor of their children's service continue. As it is said that all that glitters is not gold, showing the right way with the help of practical methods, in order to achieve the ultimate goal of what one has learned by playing the musical instrument, both the teacher and the student need knowledge and hard work may high peaks be our destiny, and let knowledge and craft develop in the way of our homeland Karakalpakstan. Work towards the renewal of our Uzbekistan, education, education, quality of knowledge, let the craft continue to be renewed. Let each person become competent in their profession. Dear teachers, I am very grateful. Thank you. My teacher took the students out of their hearts and left only three of them.

You can get a new student in the new academic year

Do not be a tired teacher

The future is your student

Good health parents

If you are looking for a respectable student

Is there a happier person than you?

Looking at the student who came looking for him with respect, looking at one of the stacks in his signature, looking at one of the students, he looked at you and taught the 7 notes do, re, mi, fa, sol, lya, si, his voice helped a person. If you understand the meaning of the knowledge given by the teacher, you will become an exemplary and well-respected student, worthy of the teacher who gave you the knowledge.
